ha... I'll laugh more on Dec 14...

Attached is the text and figures. Unfortunately, the attachments are 13MB, so I need to cull out the relevant tables for you - will send later today.

It worries me when people have heard of me.....means I have been around too long.

send a draft, I don't care about wording, and I'm hoping not to be digging through tables. Somewhere in the middle to get an understanding of the approaches taken and the level of detail used. In the board reviews we try to stay out of the details, just understand the whats and whys.

thanks, we will meet in a few weeks, bet you are really looking forward to it (just in case, that's a joke)

Oh good, I'm afraid I can't call your face to mind either, although I've heard your name.

We are currently revising the ERA (and HHRA, both are in one document) in response to comments from reviewers. But they are mainly related to wording and how the story is told, rather than changes to the analysis. Would you like to take a chance on this draft? I can send it electronically. Alternatively, if you would like to concentrate on the analysis, I can send the relevant tables rather than the text.

Alice,

I'm on the NRRB, I work out of Edison, not sure if we ever met, I do not get into NYC much anymore, but we may have - my memory is not always what it should be. Anyway, is there an easy way for me to get a copy/access to the ERA for the Passaic River - electronic, I do not want paper I would live without it if it had to be paper.. I can download it if it is on some site.

I would just like to look through the details of the risk estimates.

Thanks
